As a new school year begins, students once again crowd the halls. Each has come to better his understanding, to see remembered friends, and to meet new friends. While gathering in the lobby, students are alike in many ways, but with the ringing of the first bell, the crowd begins to disperse and individuals gradually emerge.

A student singles himself out of the crowd of students and into the close inspection of others by wearing the new styles of clothing.

Upon his entry into a specific class, each student characterizes himself. Each course that he studies brings him one step higher on the long ladder of success which will lead him to his goal in life.

just as people vary.
Following your chosen path,
may require constant determination.
But determination will change into pride when the end is reached.
As you near the end of the path, memories of many hard-worked

But clubs individualized as they pursued these purposes in their different ways.

So as Hobart's needy accepted Christmas baskets and money for meat from Student Council, basketball fans were seated by the Uskery Club and Hobart boys received Easter packages from the Detsis, they appreciated a ONENESS in

Organizations

AFS members sponsor 'Dust' concert

Students became restless at the starting of seventh hour November 19 because a rock group named Dust was setting up equipment in preparation for a convo. The convo was a preview of Dust's concert sponsored by AFS November 23.

Affiliated with the Hobart Adult AFS club, officers of HHS's AFS Club helped raise money by setting up a booth at the Harvest Bazaar.

The guest speakers for AFS club members were Luc Windey, AFS student from Brussels, Belgium, who spoke of his native home and Frank Cefali who spoke on his trip to Germany.

Top—AFS officers: Frank Cefali, vice-pres.; Sylvia Gilbertson, sec.; Jeanne Olson, treas.; Neal Kjos, pres. and Robin Hoots, historian.

Acappella presents Christmas Vespers

Extending Christmas greetings by song rather than card was practiced by Acappella with the presentation of "Christmas Is", an annual holiday concert, on December 17. The choral concert also featured Mixed Chorus, Girls Ensemble and Madrigals.

Keeping with the Yuletide spirit, Acappella participated in a combined effort to spread holiday cheer with Christmas Vespers, December 13. The Choral and Instrumental Departments presented the program free of charge to the community.

In the spring, Acappella arranged a Pop Music Convo to present to the student body. Mr. Ronald Stalbaum, new choir director, also organized a spring tour of three high schools in a 100 mile radius. After the tour, members enjoyed a picnic.

Debuteens sponsor 'Dream Come True'

Ascending into a makeshift world of clouds and stars, couples hoped for a "Dream Come True" at the semi December 5. Debuteens presented the annual winter dance in the new cafe and engaged "Pappy."

Debs aided the Muscular Dystrophy cause as they distributed banks to local businesses and left the banks with these merchants for six weeks during the Christmas season. Also, Debs contributed to the Lake Shore School for Retarded Children after sponsoring Carnation Day.

Jubilant HHS students celebrated the 13-0 defeat of Andean, at the Debs' after game dance September 18 featuring music of "Time".

FTA awards scholarship, sells mums

"Pete, go stand in the corner . . ."

"George, would you please remove your hand from the fishbowl . . ."

These situations did not happen every day, but cadet teachers found that expecting the unexpected was a wise policy to follow. FTA's senior members in good standing were able to assist in the classrooms.

Homecoming fervor was intensified as students ordered purple and gold homecoming mums from members of FTA. Earnings from the sale of mums and donations by teacher's organizations contributed to the FTA scholarship for a deserving senior.

11 Romans attend JCL convention

Heading the agenda for the year, eleven Latin Club members attended the Indiana Junior Classical League Convention in April. Mr. Black, club sponsor, and Mr. Newman accompanied the students to BSU.

Joe Smith, former officer of the JCL, served as guest speaker for the all-day affair. Main purpose of the JCL Convention was to give students an opportunity to meet and to become acquainted with fellow Romans from all over the state.

Membership cards for the Junior Classical League were issued after members paid the dues.

Kursch, Cefali experience German life

Without passports, vaccinations, or luggage, German Club traveled to Krefeld, Germany with senior Peggy Kursch by way of slides taken during her stay with a German family. Under Indiana University's Honors Program, Peggy spent nine weeks studying the country's life and language.

Traveling under the AFS program, senior Frank Cefali toured Germany and resided with a family in Hoster during the 1970 summer. Speaking to club members, Frank related the life style of the German people.

Attired in grubby blue jeans and torn sweat shirts, clubbers worked in the football concession stand to raise money for the club scholarship which was awarded to Sherry Schrock and Sylvia Gilbertson.

Members enjoy tacos at Christmas fiesta

Lots and lots of tacos could be the only words used to describe the Spanish Club Christmas party at the home of a club member, December 19. Spanish music and games enhanced the atmosphere of the fiesta.

Basketball homecoming provided an opportunity for the club to expand its treasury when members teamed to manage the concession stand.

Under Indiana University's Honors Program, senior Spanish club member Marcia Rodich experienced two months of the "real thing" during the 1970 summer while living with a Mexican family in San Luis Potosi, Mexico. Exclusive use of Spanish marked the main objective of the program.

Señor Neff served his nineteenth year as sponsor of the club.

Club members discover French culture at museum

Although Hobart does not have the Eiffel Tower, fashion boutiques or sidewalk cafes, French Club members were exposed to the customs, people, history and language of France under the direction of Mrs. Friedrich.

French Club members investigated one aspect of the French culture by exploring the Chicago Art Museum on February 18. The annual trip through the Loop also permitted members to sample a French meal.

Representatives from area travel agencies presented a program of tips to follow while traveling in France. Resulting was a question and answer period which made up the remainder of the special meeting.

Using the French Club scholarship as an incentive, members teamed up to sponsor an after game dance and work in the snack bar during the football season.

Council updates constitution, aids POW's

Right—Student Council members discuss plans for the money they earned during the 1970-71 school year.

Keeping in the trend of the now generation with a desire to change, Student Council members made changes to create a meaningful communication among the students, the faculty and the administration.

No longer are grade requirements considered when nominating a student for Student Council. Another change in the constitution stated that the Student Council should meet at least 15 times a year. These two changes occurred as a result of amendments to the constitution.

Three wooden H's painted red, one for each class, were set up in the old lobby during both lunch hours to serve as the annual spirit contest. Students bought color paper bricks to cover the H's. Sponsored by the Student Council, proceeds were used and will be used to send HO-HI LIFE to Hobart servicemen.

POW letter-writing campaign was conducted by Student Council.

Home Ec packs ditty bags; ushers service spectators

Imagine a blustery, rainy night. Mysterious noises were made by the rustling of the multicolored leaves. A full moon spotlighted the streets. It was Halloween.

Amidst this eerie night, Home Ec Club could be found concocting its own witches' brew in preparation for its Halloween party.

Members worked together to pack ditty bags for soldiers and gave a bake sale to raise money.

What would it be like to control a crowd of enthusiastic and spirited football fans? Ask any member of the Ushers Club and you would be sure to get an explicit answer.

Donned in yellow jackets, white shirts and black ties, ushers could easily be noticed by persons needing assistance in finding reserve seats at home football games. Ushers also restrained fans from littering the bleachers at Brickie Bowl.

Art club members construct new Yohan

Last minute shoppers were able to purchase ornaments, gift items and candles at the Art Club's Christmas Bazaar, December 15-18, in the new lobby. Members made these Christmas articles as well as the jewelry sold at their Spring Bazaar.

On December 14 club members went to Chicago to see Christmas displays from foreign countries.

Throughout the rest of the year, club members made a new statue of Yohan for the school, worked at the concession stand during a basketball game and awarded a scholarship to a deserving art student.

Honor Society recognizes students of high standing

Honor Society bestowed the honors on Tuesday, February 23, as members arranged a pizza supper in the new cafeteria for all students who had a 3.83 and higher grade average. The 50 scholars listened to a talk given by I.U.'s Dr. Lee Martin on how to find "our identities."

Club members served as precinct chairmen of the junior and sophomore homerooms April 15 during the mayor and clerk conventions. Tallying the honor roll averages each quarter was another responsibility given Hobart Honor Society seniors.

During May, juniors were inducted at a traditional ceremony of candle lighting and pledging themselves to the ideals of the society. Parents and school officials were extended invitations and were served cookies and punch by the members after the induction activities.

AV, science create beneficial projects

As one peered into the darkness of Room 222, a hodgepodge of lights, projectors, screens, films and tapes reflected the hustle and bustle of a hectic day's work.

The set of TV's "Room 222"?

At Hobart High, Room 222 denoted the meeting place of the A-V Club. Using all available equipment, A-V members provided their services for school and community.

With assistance from A-V members, Science Club was able to view films during their bi-monthly meetings. In addition, experiments and projects aided member's understanding.

Madrigals rank first place in West Side competition

Curiosity abounded when a group of boys arrived at school on Friday, December 18 wearing black butterfly bow ties atop raspberry shirts with ruffled fronts. The boys were part of Madrigals, a select group derived from Acappella, and performed in the annual Christmas convocation.

Aside from appearing at numerous organizations, Madrigals competed in a Solo and Ensemble Contest at West Side High School, February 6. Areas of competition included Barbershop Quartet and Girls Octet.

Hobart ties for first place; Mills ranks in state top 12

Reporting to school as early as 4:30 a.m. on Saturday morning was a sacrifice speech and debate members had to make in order to participate in away speech meets.

Debaters passed the December 12 weekend at Lafayette, opposing other high schools' orators at the Purdue Annual Debaters' Conference.

Senior Dawn Mills advanced as far as the semi-finalist phase at state finals in Indianapolis on Saturday, February 27. Dawn emerged from the competition in poetry reading, ranked seventh in the state.

Hobart shared first place honors with Munster at the Brickies home speech meet on February 20. Senior Ted Nordquist placed first after the competition in discussion.

Mixed Chorus acquires new director, male singers

Threatened to become an all-girl chorus, Hobart vocalists, along with their new director Mr. Stalbaum, advertised for male singers at the year's beginning. Successful in this attempt, mixed chorus performed at the December 17 choral concert and at various school convos.

In company with the Madrigals and Acappella, mixed choir journeyed the short distance to the junior high on February 3 during second hour. They performed for the freshman class and the eighth grade chorus in an appeal for more students to enroll in choir at the high school.

Journalists awarded for publications

Teamwork, organization, pride and spirit in either a football team or publications staff are to Mr. Mark Popovich the ingredients for a top rating. Mr. Popovich, Ball State's assistant professor of journalism and former Hobart adviser, spoke at the annual Quill and Scroll Banquet April 20 in the new cafe.

Receiving awards for excellence in scholastic journalism were Peggy Lough, Walter A. Keller Award; Bev Bolinger, Most Valuable Staffer; Rod Bayless, Quill and Scroll Award; Joe Blair, Hobart Gazette Award and Mary Kay Baron, Gold Key Award.

Memories honored in Sweet Sixteen

Ranked as one of Indiana's "Sweet Sixteen", the Memories of 1970 was honored by Ball State University's Eastern Indiana Journalism Day that took place on May 1.

Sitting on the floor, munching on popcorn and sipping cokes, yearbook staff viewed W. C. Fields' movies at the home of adviser Mr. Fred Price after meeting a crucial deadline in mid-December, 1970.

Getting in the groove for next year as well as bringing back last year's memories, Hobart students met in the new cafeteria in late August, 1971 at the yearbook party. The 1970 Memories just missed an All-American rating by a few points.

HO-HI LIFE incorporates newsbureau

Former Chicago Bear flanker back and NBC sportscaster Johnny Morris was interviewed by four HO-HI LIFE staff members in a press conference at St. Sava Serbian Hall during the United Fund Kick-Off Breakfast.

Co-editors Kathy Kopach and Mary Kay Baron, sports editor Rod Bayless and newsbureau representative Greta MacDonald partook in the questioning along with Mr. Price, adviser.

Incorporated into the HO-HI LIFE staff for the purpose of submitting pictures, news and feature stories to local newspapers, the newsbureau consisted of Greta MacDonald, Nance Wright and Tess Patterson.

With an increase of seven staff members over last year's 13, the HO-HI LIFE staff published 16 issues of the bi-weekly plus a two page sports special for sectionals.

Staffers also attended workshops at Ball State and Valpo.

First received at NISBOVA competition

Complete with flashing lights and sirens, band members entered Hobart with a police escort and their 41st consecutive first after competing in the NISBOVA Contest.

Throughout the remainder of the year, band members participated in State and District Solo and Ensemble Contests, toured and performed at IU in Bloomington and presented Convos and concerts in the gym.

Collecting pop bottles, serving chili and performing locally enabled stage band to accumulate the funds needed for a tour of Europe.

Commended during the Mother's Day Concert, May 9, were Nancy Thomason, Arican Award; Mike Fesi, John Phillip Sousa Award; and junior Brent Cutler, Georgeanne Murphy Award.

Schammert, Parent earn recognition

Competitive gymnastics, track and volleyball dominated the activities offered by GAA. Other GAA activities included folk dancing, cageball and swimming for girls not partaking in the interschool sports.

By participating in GAA sporting events for four years, seniors Alice Schammert and Sue Parent earned the required 300 points to be eligible for the GAA State Award.

May 20 at Mr. Smorgasbord set the scene of the annual GAA banquet. New officers for the preceding year were announced and awards were given to deserving girls.

Club attains spirit trophy, revises former constitution

Spirit hats and decorated lockers helped instigate "Tournament Victory Week" February 22-26. To cap off the week, Hobart was awarded the spirit trophy at the East Chicago sectional Saturday night, February 27. A boys' booster block was organized by the coaches for the game.

Booster Club painted the cement football bleachers purple and gold before the season began. A caravan through Hobart was also staged for football homecoming.

Rousing school spirit throughout the year for the various teams, club members performed skits during pep sessions and painted posters for the halls. A special committee amended the club constitution in an effort to encourage participation.

Cheerleaders exchange ideas, sell buttons

Aunt Jemima, a motorcycle hood, a bulging muscle man and a go go girl headed a parade of disguised varsity and reserve cheerleaders October 9 during the football homecoming pep session. After comically displaying what they would be if not Brickies, the cheerleaders together with Yohan went on the warpath when confronted with a fellow Brickie dressed in the garb of a Portage Indian.

Loyal football fans contributed to the cheerleaders' uniform fund by buying "Brickies Are Tuff" buttons. Beginning this year, both groups of cheerleaders returned squad uniforms to Booster Club in order to provide future cheerleaders with a greater collection of uniforms.

By exchanging routines and cheers with Calumet High during the summer, HHS cheerleaders were able to change old cheers and work in new routines before football season.

Urge to "get involved" students became better acquainted with each other as well as helped boost school spirit by their joint participation in Hobart's activities.

Even so, each event had a particular significance and marked a special time of year for every participant as he remembered his good times after anticipating and working for that function.

Consequently after students danced at three a.m. at the post prom, taught kindergartners on Government Education Day or were handed their diplomas, they savored a ONENESS in

Mini-floats add to homecoming activities

No peace pipes were being passed as the Hobart Brickies prepared to battle against the Portage Indians on October 9 in Brickie Bowl. Sophs proved the 20-7 homecoming victory was "In the Bag" with their winning entry in float competition.

Homecoming was climaxed with the crowning of senior queen candidate Sally Adams during half time.

Muscles of three class presidents did not measure up to Hercule's, but each class leader managed to debut a minifloat at basketball-wrestling homecoming, February 12.

Brickie roundballers conceded to the Lew Wallace Hornets, 61-59, but seniors dominated festivities with homecoming queen Peg Neier and class minifloat "Wall Up Wallace."

Music dominates variety of convo topics

Restlessness came over students last hour November 17 while waiting for attendance to be taken. Students could hear music coming from the gym indicating that the band "Dust" had arrived and was ready to perform for the entire student body.

This convocation was a preview of the rock concert held November 21. AFS organized the Monday night rock concert to satisfy students' strong demand for rock music.

Patriotism Week concluded with a convo featuring Mrs. David H. Duart, wife of a POW in North Viet Nam. After Mrs. Duart's speech on POW's, students saw a movie on POW's.

Other convocations consisted of HHS's stage band in preparation of the area stage band contest and the ISU Boys' Glee Club performed.

Plays under new director; settings produce reality

Rehearsing at least an hour and a half, five nights a week, dramatic students poured out all efforts to make the fall production, "Flowers for Algernon", a success.

Other chores which needed to be completed before opening night were deciding on the appropriate costumes and preparing the stage setting. The play was presented November 13 and 14 in MacPherson Hall.

Enthusiasm shown toward the play from dramatic students was proven by the number of both males and females that tried out for roles. Try-outs were held after school, and the task of casting roles was done by drama director, Mr. Stalbaum.

With permission of the Art Craft Play Co., HHS's dramatics department performed Donald R. Steiper's play, "Rubberneck", as their spring play March 26 and 27.

Directed by Ronald Stalbaum, the spring play focused in the election of a mayor for a hick town. Problems resulted when Larry Wilkens refused to allow Uncle Elwyn to campaign for mayor at the Wilken's residence. The mockery of the election began when "Rubberneck", a mannequin, runs for mayor instead of Uncle Elwyn.

Perfection in the stage setting was achieved by authentic furniture donated by the Werth Furniture Store for the spring production.

'Swan Lake' enacted at Yohannaire

Continuing to make people laugh and cry at the antic of Hobart High students, the annual Student Council sponsored Yohannaire was presented March 11-13 in MacPherson Hall.

Garbed in white tights and pink feathers, boys' chorus line members solemnly pirouetted across the stage to the music of "Swan Lake". Genuine can-can outfits assisted the girls' chorus line in demonstrating their first number, the "Can-Can".

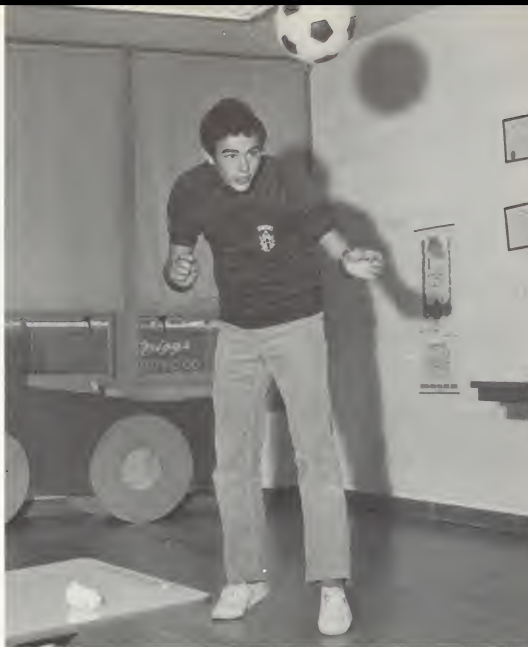

Acts composing the remainder of the 1971 talent show possessed the theme, "Get It Together—Red, White and Blue". The task of entertaining the audience between acts was done by Emcee Dave Tipton.

Senior Nance Wright presided as the general chairman, and Miss Judy Batos directed the show. Proceeds went toward a $600 Student Council scholarship and provided money for an American Field Service Fund.

AFS student enjoys new sports, customs

"I came in contact with a whole new world, new people, new customs, and I like it!" declared Luc Windey, Belgian exchange student.

Throughout the Hobart Senior High School year, Luc Windey resided at the Joseph Alonso home. While in the United States, Windey demonstrated soccer to fellow classmates and in turn took part in HHS's basketball, tennis and track.

At home in Brussels, Luc enjoyed water skiing and swimming. He also left behind him in his hometown of Brussels, his mother and father and two younger brothers.

Luc concluded, "I am very happy to be here at school at Hobart and in my family; they are very kind. I would thank the AFS club for all it had done for me."

Local business firms join annual Gov.-Ed. functions

Dreams of becoming a policeman, a teacher and even mayor of a city were recalled as seniors applied for positions to fulfill on Government-Education Day, March 17.

Local businesses participated in the annual events for the first time to accommodate qualified seniors who were not chosen to assume a teaching or governmental position.

Student councilmen assembled in the evening for a make-shift council meeting presided over by Tim Roper and Peggy Neier, mayor and clerk. As fire chief, Rod Warren accompanied his squad to the high school for a make-believe fire drill.

Saylor elected; underclassmen split ticket

Patches of grass along the road were cluttered with lounging juniors and sophomores awaiting the Gold and Purple Party floats to pass enroute downtown Hobart for the mayor-clerk parade on Friday, May 7.

Culminating three weeks of party campaigning, the parade advertised "Power to the Purple" and advocated joining of the "Gold Rush" to voters who split their ticket and selected Purple Party mayoral candidate Don Ewigleben and Gold Party candidate Pam Saylor for clerk.

Arranged in precincts with Honor Society members serving as precinct chairmen, underclassmen cast their votes at the nominating convention and chose Lydia Krsek and Pam Saylor to run on the Gold Party ticket. Don Ewigleben and Kim Kimsey constituted the Purple Party ballot.

Casting votes May 10 and 11 were 365 of 865 eligible voters.

Juniors create road to 'Oz'; Biondi spotlights post-prom

Tossing coins into the fountain, couples entered the scene of the '71 Prom at the Spanish Society and were taken "Over the Rainbow".

Johnny Nolan's band provided the entertainment April 24 for the Prom amidst gum drops and paper flowers. Acting as an emcee, Chicago's WCFL disc jockey Dick Biondi supplemented the "Holly Cast's" music during the post-prom at San Remo's.

Nobility at the prom consisted of seniors Tom Martin, Debbie Saylor, who reigned as Prom king and queen. Their court was made up of seniors Terry Cizek and Debbie Lain in addition to senior Clif Hersch and his date, junior Connie Crisman.

Sunday, April 25, couples capped off their Prom weekend with a trip to such places as the Dunes, Turkey Run and Pokagon.

Cluttered before restroom mirrors and lobby windows, seniors adjusted caps and gowns before taking their seats in the gym at the annual Honor Convo Wednesday, May 19.

On behalf of the seniors, class President Terry Ciszek presented to the school a monument containing a brick enclosed glass case to inform the public of upcoming events.

Acquiring local scholarships were Tom Mochan, Tri Kappa; Terry Ciszek and Chuck King, Harlie Garver Award; Bobbie Sue Eaves, Hobart Jayshees; and Marcia Rodich, Phi Beta Psi.

Class of '21 attends graduation exercises

Despite possibilities of diplomas not arriving in time for graduation ceremonies and the photographer not available to take the class picture, Commencement was a memorable event for the Class of '71.

Departing from different sections of the United States to attend the 1971 Commencement exercises, June 1, were 11 HHS alumni which graduated 50 years ago in 1921.

Reverend Gilbert C. Meilaender, pastor of Trinity Lutheran, was the featured speaker at Baccalaureate, May 30, in the gymnasium.

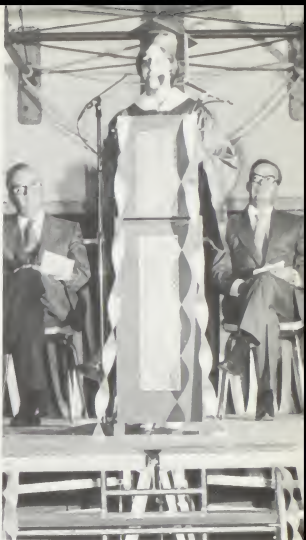

Marion Meilaender, valedictorian, and salutatorians Raleigh Farlow and Frank Cefali addressed speeches to the 376 seniors prior distribution of diplomas by Mrs. Briggs, assisted by Mr. Moody and Mr. Garmon, with the help of Miss Thompson.

Loyal fans boosted the various athletic teams at Hobart who, in turn, were united by a strong mutual preoccupation with victory and the key work competition.

Players, however, were given the opportunity to demonstrate their distinct abilities and talents as they excelled in their respective sports—each one unique in its demands on athletes.

Thus, when gridders snapped Andean's streak, the cross country team took regionals and the roundballers finished with a winning season, Hobart athletes proved themselves well adapted to a ONENESS in...

Harriers grab sectionals, regionals, 11th at state

Brickie harriers captured their first regional championship in the history of cross country at Hobart. Senior Bob Bowman's record setting time of 9:16.6 stamped out the 1966 regional record of 9:23.8 installed by Don Vandrey of Valpo.

Hobart thinclads won the LaPorte Regional Saturday, October 24, over favored Highland, 106-117. Clinching sixth place at the hilly course was senior Eddie Pavelka.

Finishing fourteenth at the state meet in Indianapolis was Ed Pavelka. Southport captured the title.

Winning the tenth IHSAA sectional championship in the past 22 years, Coach Hancock's runners grabbed the title out of a field of 16 schools with a total of 48 points.

Coach Don Hancock experienced his first year as head coach after three years as assistant coach under Frank Kurth. While a senior at Hobart, Mr. Hancock paced his team to the State championship in 1957.

With the loss of senior lettermen Bob Bowman, Ed Pavelka, Chuck King, Doug Rose and Tim Roper, Hancock has Gabel and Ayres returning. Elected as Ho-Hi Life Coach of the Year was Mr. Hancock.

Previous head tennis coach, Mr. Fay Trammel, terminated his coaching career at HHS after four years. New head tennis coach was the journalism advisor Mr. Price who has taught at Hobart for two years.

Breaking a school record in the two mile run with a time of 9:23:9, Bob Bowman placed 1st in state competition in Indianapolis. Jim Lierman, Ed Pavelka, Bob Bowman and Jim Ksenak broke another record when they timed 7:45:3 in the distance medley.

Besides senior cinderman, underclassmen helped out the team. Jerry Rebeck was the leading hurdler and Vince Marler led in shot put.

One stroke causes 11-6 conclusion

Under new golf Coach Ron Elisha, the Varsity golf team ended the year with an 11-6 record. During the season the squad lost 5 matches and 1 tournament by only one stroke, but the best nine hole game would be the 162 shot against Gary Wallace in a losing effort.

Dean Donovan, named best golfer of the year, broke a school at Cressmoor by shooting the front 9 holes in a 33 on 3 under par. Jack Driemeyer was most improved golfer.

JV golfers finish with 8-3 record

Hobart JV linksmen, under new Coach Bill Rose, ended the season with an 8-3 record. Reserves won 5 of the 1st 6 games, but because of 5 postponed matches in May the team's playing quality effected the last few outings of the season.

Having the lowest score for 9 holes was Dave Winegar with a 41.7 average followed by Jack Dreimeyer with 42.8. During the season three reserves competed in varsity action.

Reserve track consists of 3 cinderman

Since there was a lack of participation shown this year in track there was no reserve team.

Most of the Brickies who started out this year as reserve cinderman were moved up and given varsity positions. The reserve team was helped some by this advancement because it gave the members varsity experience for the following years.

Stretching from mid winter until early spring boys participated in the Saturday morning intramural program directed by Mr. Don Howell. Playing basketball, wrestling, weight-lifting and ping-pong the activities lasted from 10 a.m. until 12 noon.

Undefeated and untied the Central City Panthers captured the basketball championship with an 8-0 record. Rod Bayless captained the team and Dirk Flick was high scorer for the Panthers. The trampoline was also open to the boys during intramurals.

Teammates, hard work activates

Hobart's varsity volleyball team outscored Munster, River Forest and Wirt to clinch the Big Four Tourney at Wirt on November 7.

With a season record of 1-2, the girls' A team conceded in the second round of competition at the District Tourney in Lake Central.

Mastering all four events at the same level in gymnastic competition, senior Sally Adams became Hobart's first all-around gymnast.

Experiencing team defeat in meets with Merrillville, Crown Point and Wheeler, the team entered nine girls in the District meet.

Practice, sprains, sweat, prepare females for track

Neither rain, nor sleet, nor dark of night could stop the girls' track team from conditioning.

Returning seniors Gail Gronlund and Alice Schammert led the team of 30 girls for their fourth year.

Placing second in the indoor triangular meet with Lake Central and Crown Point, Hobart won blue ribbons in six various events.

Reducing the number of competitors in the district meet with new qualifying times and distances, cut the team to 13 girls. The 440 yd. relay team composed of Sandy Matsen, Anne Moser, Anthoula Papaangelow and Phyllis Parent placed first out of the 17 schools.

Regionals ended with the top five girls meeting defeat.

Students groaned as teachers assigned term papers, scheduled tests and handed out exams as classes followed many of the same guidelines in obtaining the best possible education.

Behind the structural similarities, however, students found courses to be different and also discovered that each had something good to offer after the tedious assignments.

So whenever students experimented in chem lab, read love poetry in English or performed skits in dramatics classes, they appreciated ONENESS in . . .

Academics

Pupils train for business opportunities

Coming from the northeast wing of the building, a continuous clatter and ringing of bells drifted through the upper hallways.

Machines. The electronic age had penetrated the Business Department and its impression was left in the form of noisy electronic computers, rotary calculators and typewriters. In this way the Business Department was a unique part of HHS.

Students prepared for future jobs in office practice, a class offered to give experience in manipulation of typical office equipment. In the spring, outstanding students in the Business Department were recommended for employment by inquiry from local business offices.

Second year typing classes helped alleviate expenses for the school by typing students' reports cards.

Pupils interpret languages from cultural background

Helping students to interpret a foreign language, Spanish, French, Latin and German teachers informed students of the various customs and cultural backgrounds.

Interrupting usual class routine, advanced German students read a play written in German which was "Der Besuch der Alten Dame".

During class time French students translated a French play, listened to tapes and read magazines.

Acquiring knowledge on mythology, Latin students also studied sentence structure and Roman history.

Overhead projectors and records aided Spanish students in learning the foreign language.

Donovan, Rogers receive outstanding ROTC awards

If the uniforms of Hobart's ROTC program differ from those of other ROTC units, it may be the blue star above the right pocket that makes the distinction.

Because the Hobart ROTC program was designated an Honor Unit by the Fifth Army, a blue star was issued to each ROTC cadet. The honor rating marked the second consecutive year of receiving the award.

During the Patriotism Convo,

Tom Rogers accepted a silver saber for the outstanding achievement of the unit after the presentation of the Meritorious Student Citizen Award to First Sergeant Dean Donovan.

Negro past researched; Sociologists study tribes

Researching such Indian tribes as the Aztecs, Hottentots and Tlingits, sociology classes unearthed the many singular cultures that exist outside the lives of HHS students.

An in depth study was also made by sociology students to understand the Negro's views of America. Under the guidance of Mr. Mattox, student teacher for Mr. Johnson, the Negro history was examined with the use of a filmstrip series. A pamphlet along with panel discussions rounded out the students' study.

Resuming last year's partnership, Mr. Blink and Mr. Leathem correlated English and history in a special two hour junior class.

Trigonometry now offered in junior year

Many changes are taking place in the world today and so it is in the Hobart High math department.

One change introduced to better the math-science curriculum offered to the students at Hobart was a one year course of advanced algebra in the junior year. This new variation in the math-science curriculum will take place at the beginning of the 1971-72 school year.

Now students on the math-science curriculum have the choice of taking a semester of trigonometry either in the junior or senior year.

New textbooks were adopted this year and every five years from now new texts will be supplied to better prepare students in the training of math in the world of today.

Field of science brings new discoveries

Muddy, unguided paths led a group of about 30 adventurous students and their chaperones Mr. Pflughoeft and Mr. Blink through Sullivan's cave on Saturday, October 24. Another group explored the cave near Springfield, Indiana, in April.

Mr. Horvath's advanced sophomore biology class's project involved the highly publicized social concern of the environment. Pupils studied Lake George and a local woods.

Semester course eliminates driver test

Whether it was driving in town or down I-65, behind-the-wheel driver's ed. students had the opportunity to practice the rules learned in class. Upon passing the state written exam and semester course, students were able to receive driver's licenses. New legislation made this privilege available to students.

"Mind If I Smoke?" the title of the pamphlet studied by students in alcohol ed. classes, emphasized the hazards of smoking. Required to keep a notebook, alcohol ed. pupils also studied the dangers and effects of drugs and alcohol.

Two new additions to HHS's Health Department were light blue and white striped girls' gym uniforms and Mrs. Davies, who taught alcohol ed. and girls' physical education.

Art pupils learn Origami; mechanics rebuild autos

"One and only" could be used to describe the car tuned out by power mechanics students. The boys, under the guidance of Mr. Rusnak, used a standard frame, a 1963 Corvair body and a Chevrolet V-8 engine.

Print shop boys again this year made most of the printed forms used in all eight public schools in the Hobart City school system.

Origami, the ancient Japanese art of paper folding, was taught to art students as well as the designing of Christmas stained glass windows for the school lobbies and decorations for their own homes.

Competing for a $25 savings bond donated by H. Gordon & Sons, Hobart artists sketched a fashion from the Gary department store.

Spending, generally at least, six hours a day in the school building both faculty and student body experienced many of the same things—problems as well as pleasures.

These bonds served to distinguish among Brickies, though, as each person met each crisis and celebration in his own way, using his own special powers. Thus, as one student slid into home plate, was announced class party queen or ran home with an "honor roll" report card, HHS brought out a ONENESS IN ...

People

Administration abolishes nine week exam,

Hobart's administration proved to be responsive to student wishes as the school board elected to abolish nine weeks' exams. Instead, two hour exams were given at the semesters' ends on three half days of school. The board also fixed the dismissal date for seniors at 10 days before the official end of school.

Utilizing 17 years of experience as Hobart High principal, Mr. Moody managed the school and was able to make suggestions to the school board on matters concerning HHS.

Tread not the well worn path but We're the class of all the fun, we're the class of '71 echoed in the gym, as the class became the first one to receive the spirit trophy for three consecutive years.

As white comedy masks floated in the breeze, farmer Claude Murphy and his "wife" Patti Sapper became the royal couple at the class party.

By stuffing thousands of napkins into wire, seniors created a second place float, "Who's been eating my Portage", and the first place mini-float, "Wall up Wallace". Homecoming queen honors went to seniors Sally Adams and Peggy Neier.

Working, teaching, and observing filled March 17 as seniors joined in the annual Gov-Education Day.

On June 1 the Class of '71 united to sing the final chorus of the Alma Mater at commencement.

Fulfilling their senior motto, class officers; Terry Ciszek, pres., Nance Wright, sec., Doug Rose, treas., and Chuck King, v-pres., blaze a new trail by working together to create a feeling of "oneness" in the class.

High School is a waste of time . . .

. . . unless you find a job that turns you on and makes good use of your education. Inland Steel wants only people who want to use everything they've learned in high school--and strongly desire to grow personally and in their chosen field.

Inland's future growth depends on the creativity and productivity of its people. If you want a really challenging opportunity to contribute--with the rewards and responsibilities that go with it--Inland wants to talk to you.

We need action-seeking graduates for opportunities in clerical . . . production . . . technical . . . and craft apprenticeship areas.

Think it over. If you have high aspirations and a good high school record, take time to find out about a career with us.

Season elapse, bringing forth a new year. Happenings of the past year and hopes of future dreams come true compose the foundation of one's thoughts. Woven with these is experience. The unperceivable future waits ahead, watching the developing ONENESS of searching individuals.

Stopping along my chosen path of ambition, I achieved one of my set goals by editing the 1971 MEMORIES. However proud I may be, I humbly realize that without the association and help of fellow staff members this venture would have been less meaningful and not nearly as successful. I take this opportunity to express my thanks to them for their ambition and dedication.

This publication could not have become a reality without the guidance and help of others. I can not express the gratitude I have for Mr. Fred Price. His ability to become one of the staff instead of just an advisor has inspired us all. I would like to thank Mr. Dick Kennard and Newsfoto Yearbooks. Repeating the performance of past years, Victor Studio receives my appreciation for the senior portraits. I would also like to thank the Detroit Free Press and the Gary Post Tribune for the pictures in the opening.
